About the Product:

Cloud-based GTP® MANAGER TEAMROOM solution for the multinational group and its network of experts; using the ELO ECM Suite for Enterprise Content Management

What the product contains:

The article provides for a fully-fledged TP solution. It is primarily directed to Tax Consulting Networks which serve mid-sized multinational groups. Subject to the customization level, the solution offers a wide range of functionalities of the GTP® MANAGER. The consulting network will be enabled to manage its international transfer pricing client cases in such way that each related-party unit of such case can be provided with transfer pricing services, documentation reports, related-party contracts, arm's length assessment positions and reports, and other features such as compliance management input. TP Management processes are integral and the experts and service staffs of the Tax Consulting Network as well as external experts can be assigned to the respective task and role. External experts and even the tax auditors/inspectors of the respective jurisdictions can be established with dedicated user roles. User rights can be defined individually and across teams, being aligned with single-sign-on comfort. The GTP® MANAGER TEAMROOM is the genuine digital transfer pricing solution for tax experts and their clients.

Dr. Markus Brem, the founder and managing partner of the GTP® TEAM about the online shop:

„Since its foundation 15 years back, the GTP® TEAM has pursued its business model of standardization, simplification, and digitalization on transfer pricing features. Now, with the GTP® MALL in place, multinational groups and international tax experts can benefit from cost-efficient and straight-lined solutions and articles on structuring, price setting, arm’s length assessment, income allocation, documentation, and controversy. With such components, the practitioner may realize its own expertise on the specific case of the transfer pricing system of the multinational group.“

It is the aim of the GTP® TEAM that the content of the GTP® MALL and the underlying model of professional expertise can shift transfer pricing practice to more consistency, efficiency, and reliability of income allocation and documentation. In light of the OECD BEPS Project, an increase in consistency and methodological spirit is needed more than ever with regard to price setting, arm’s length analysis, and documentation, tax audits, and MAP procedures. Only with such logic, the GTP® TEAM believes experts can master the internal workload of administration, while offsetting on tax risk behind transfer pricing and safeguarding the fair share of tax revenues into tax jurisdictions.

About the GTP® TEAM

The GTP® TEAM provides transfer pricing and compliance management solutions. Customers are large and mid-sized multinationals as well as international tax consultants and governmental and other organizations. The company stands for practitioner solutions on transfer pricing to ease this part of globalization and cross-border business. Structuring transfer pricing systems, various kinds of arm’s length tests, benchmarking, and compliance solutions are products and services of the GTP® TEAM.

The GTP’s model is construed on standardization, simplification, and digitalization. Structuring transfer pricing systems of multinational groups, arm’s length assessment models, documentation, and controversy solutions belong to GTP’s expertise, in particular with regard to mid-sized groups. The founder and director, Dr. Markus Brem, has been working on transfer pricing for the past two decades domestically and abroad, both in the academia and serving as professional consultant.
